Introduction:

Haryana State Council for Science, Innovation & Technology (HSCSIT) is implementing a number of schemes for the promotion & popularization of Science & Technology in the State. HSCSIT now intends to promote Student Project Programme to build a strong base for practical problem solving as well as to build their R & D potential. There is enormous reservoir of talent and creativity in the students and the faculty of Government colleges and State Universities. Another important factor is the availability of good basic and infrastructure facilities in the Government colleges and State Universities for experimentation, design, fabrication and testing.

There is a need to encourage these students of U.G (Professional & Science) /P.G (Professional and Sciences) courses in Engineering/ Biology/ Physics/ Chemistry/ Medicine / Pharmaceutical / Agriculture/ Veterinary/ Environment at the Colleges and Universities located in Haryana to take up useful minor research projects. This programme may link together developmental efforts with educational institutions so that relevant problems flow to the institutions and feasible technical solutions might flow back to the implementers.

Objectives:

- To encourage and motivate students to work on useful minor research projects.
- To improve understanding of students and develop methodology of solving complex issues.
